

Metropolitan Revolver League of Hartford, Inc.

To the Men and Women of our League:

Mr. Zander of Colt's pistol team and I had a thought that perhaps at this banquet tribute and recognition be paid to the founders and active members of our league. A one-page sheet giving members' names, clubs some statistics and dates going back to the time of origin. It will probably take twenty-one page sheets to do the job well. Research, condensing and final editing of the league history will take more time than I had anticipated. I would like now, with the permission of our members and board of directors, to consider making up a booklet type history giving the pertinent data and recording it as a part of league history. This would be done at a later date.

To give you an idea of what the league was like back in 1938, I gathered a small amount of information from Del Coe's clippings, reading back to the origin banquet.

There were at that time, eight teams with eight members on each team. The teams were: The Hartford Revolver and Rifle Club; Phoenix Bank Club; Colt's Pistol Club; SNE Telephone Club; Capitol City; Windsor; Wethersfield and the Mercer and Dunbar Team. A few years later there were more clubs added including a team from the Hartford Courant called the Courant Pistoleers.

The first officers in the league were: Robert C. Dudley, President; Horatio Harlow, Secretary-Treasurer; Captain Ed. J. Langrish, Chief Range Officer and J. Henry Fitzgerald, Advisor. The first banquet was held in the Colt's Memorial Building on Wyllys Street, 28 March 1939. A fine tribute was paid to the league and its members by a reporter by saying that "Probably no league of Marksmen ever went through a whole season of matches with better feeling, with more good will and friendliness than has been the rule in the Metropolitan League." I know that the good will and friendliness with the good feeling still exists along with fine sportsmanship.

Speakers at the first banquet commented on the advantages of pistol shooting, match competition adding that "Any sport that brings out the best in a man is certainly worth encouraging." How true a statement this is. J. Henry Fitzgerald of Colt's Patent Fire Arms Co. said "Where there was one shooter years ago, there are now thousands." The growth in memberships of the clubs in our league attests to that as a fact.

In closing this note I find that we cannot write or speak of our league and its members past and present without honoring the living and very active members. Men such as Dan Juliani of Capitol City; Del Coe and Ed Prouty of Windsor and Margaret Hasting, our one time secretary of Pilgrim, just to name a few.

We further honor all of the deceased members of our league, especially Arnold Goodwin who passed away the 22 April 1961. He was our Chief Range Officer and a fine man. He was "Goodie" to all of us.

To these men, the men and the women of the past, and the men and women of the future carry on all of the honorable traditions of your league. The good sportsmanship, the friendliness, the constant striving to become a better marksman, a better sportman and by all of this - become a better person.

Sincerely,

J. McIsaac
